Pennsylvania Engineering Company Given Number Of Large Contracts

GREATEST BACKLOG OF ORDERS REPORTED

Announcement was made today by William S. Wheeler, president of the Pennsylvania Engineering Corporation, that the company had recently been awarded a number of large contracts for domestic and foreign companies.

The orders include a 30-ton Bessemer converter for the Jones & Laughlin Steel Corporation, an 800-ton hot metal mixer for the Wheeling Steel Corporation and a 15-ton Bessemer converter with auxiliary equipment for the Pacific Steel Company of Chile.

For Pittsburgh Plant

The 30-ton Bessemer converter for the Jones & Laughlin Steel Corporation will be installed at their South Side Works at Pittsburgh, Pa. and will be their third converter, making this plant one of the largest producers of Bessemer steel in the United States. All three converters furnished by the Pennsylvania Engineering Corporation.

The 800-ton hot metal mixer will be installed at the Wheeling Steel Corporation's Steubenville plant and is a part of their large expansion program for increasing their production facilities.

For South America

The Pacific Steel Company located at Concepcion, on San Vicente Bay, Chile, for which the Pennsylvania Engineering Corporation is building the Bessemer equipment, will be the first integrated steel plant in the country and will be one of the largest steel plants in South America. The plant is being financed partly by Chilean capital and partly by the U. S. Export and Import Bank. The plant will include coke ovens, blast furnace steel making departments and finishing mills.

Nearing Completion

The National Tube Company's four 30-ton Bessemer converters, two 800-ton hot metal mixers and the auxiliary equipment which the company is building is nearing completion. As the converters are of a new design and of all welded construction, arrangements are being made to assemble and erect one complete converter in the plant at New Castle for inspection by engineers or any interested parties. In order to completely assemble.

National Legion Commander Urges Military Training

National Commander James F. O'Neil, of the American Legion, in his address to Legionnaires and members of the Legion Auxiliary from Western Pennsylvania and Eastern Ohio at the Cathedral Thursday evening, termed revival of selective service, which now seems indicated by the temper of Congress, to be merely a stop-gap measure, and stated that it will not fill the bill. He asserted that the only answer to a strong national defense, in which the American Legion has always been interested, is universal military training.

Commander O'Neil addressed an audience of close to a thousand members of the Legion, auxiliary, and their friends at the 25th annual national commander's banquet.

Commander O'Neil lauded Pennsylvania's Legion membership and its activities, paying tribute to the members of the national championship basketball team from Beaver Falls, who were present in a body.

Sir William Webb, Australian president of the Allied War Crimes Tribunal, brought history's longest trial to an end after 25 months and 16 days of testimony.

Japan's "Pearl Harbor premier", Hideki Tojo and his 24 co-defendants smiled with relief. They appeared healthy but looked tired and unweary.

The 11-nation tribunal made no announcement regarding the date when a verdict might be expected, but observers believed the next session of the court would be summoned early in June.

Believe Worst Of Ohio River Flood Is Over

River Stage Is Near Crest Of Flood, Or Has Begun Dropping

PITTSBURGH FLOOD WATERS RECEDING

(By International News Service)

Scores of thousands of Ohio river valley flood victims—more than 10,000 in Ohio alone—looked forward today to the time when they could move back to their mud-covered homes and businesses.

From Pittsburgh to historic Marietta, the rampaging Ohio was either dropping or stationary, and from Marietta to Cincinnati the rise was greatly slowed.

Huge Damage

Damage was counted in the millions of dollars and three deaths were attributed indirectly to the flood, but the devastation was said to be nothing compared to the great deluge of 1937.

Weathermen reported nothing less than heavy rains before Tuesday could send the turbulent river up again—and they predicted "nothing but a suggestion of light showers" tonight or tomorrow.

Bullets Fired Into Automobile

Mystery Attack Early Today On Autoist On Ellwood Road

State police today are searching for a motorist who fired two shots, one of which passed through both front windows, and the other which imbedded in the left door of an auto operated by William Stroud of R. D. 1, at the intersection of the Ellwood City and Princeton roads at 4:30 a. m. today. According to Stroud, he believes there were two men in the auto.

Stroud told State police that he was enroute from his employment place at Lowellville toward his home.

His car reached the junction of the Princeton and Ellwood City roads when he noticed a car coming out the Princeton road.

The horn of this car was honked, then drew alongside of his auto on the Ellwood City highway.

The motorist fired two shots, one of which passed through both front windows, and the other imbedded in the front door.

It was recovered by state police. After the shooting the driver extinguished the lights of his car and sped toward Ellwood City.

(By JOHN E. LEE
(U. S. Staff Correspondent))

The delegates, meeting in the French foreign office, also approved a document called "the final act" summarizing the work of committees established to determine needs of each nation under the plan.

British Lieut. Gen. Sir Brian Robertson attended to represent the economically merged British and American zones in Germany which are being included in the recovery program.

Sen. Robertson said that he and Gen. Lucius D. Clay, American military governor, have received assurances from German authorities that they warmly welcome the opportunity given Germany to join in the plan. He said:

"They have affirmed their determination to play a full part."

Hillville Grocer Wounded By Mystery Shots Fired Through Kitchen Window

Arrow points to window in home of Jim Polia, Hillville area grocer, through which mystery shot was fired early this morning, wounding the grocer in the arm.

James Polia, aged 58, married, a grocer of Hillville, was wounded by a blast from a shotgun used by an unknown assailant at 2 a. m. today. He is in the Jameson Memorial hospital with his right arm mangled between the shoulder and elbow, according to Sheriff Frank Coen and state police. Mr. Polia was standing in the kitchen when the blast was fired through a window.

According to the county and state authorities, Mr. Polia and some friends had consumed some coffee and his friends had departed when he made himself ready to retire.

Suddenly the night was penetrated by a blast, the discharge of the gun coming through the kitchen window, but being partly deflected by a door which was open between the kitchen and another room. Mr. Polia was standing approximately six feet from the window when shot.

His nephew, Joseph DeGennaro, and a brother-in-law, Louis Griffa brought the wounded man to the Jameson Memorial hospital, then called city police, who relayed the information to Sheriff Coen and the state police. They immediately went to Hillville and launched an investigation.

According to the officials Mr. Polia bears an excellent reputation and no motive for the attack is known.

Make Effort To Speed Bogota Conference

By JOHN A. REICHMANN
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

BOGOTA, Colombia, April 16.—Termination of the Inter-American Conference in Bogota by early next week was predicted today.

Informed quarters said they expected moves to speed the parley to a conclusion will be made after a regional Western Hemisphere pact within the frame-work of the United Nations is drawn up.

The prediction is based largely on the slow progress of current conference meetings in school rooms of suburban Bogota to which parley sessions were moved after outbreak of the Colombian revolt last Friday.

Some top delegates are said to be posing patience with the apparent reluctance of the rank and file of delegates to appreciate the urgency of the situation. The leaders want to accomplish something, adjourn and go home.

At present the regional pact is considered the only really important item which should be agreed to. But an anti-Communist declaration by the conference also is considered desirable.

Sheets Being Rolled On One Of Finishing Mills At Old Shenango Plant

OTHER MILLS WILL SOON BE READY

They're rolling sheets in the Valley Manufacturing Company plant today!

Ninety nine calendar days after the work of installing equipment was started in the old Shenango tin plant, sheets are being rolled on one of the finishing mills. Originally 100 working days was set and thought to be too soon. But at 12:39 a. m. today, the first sheet went through as John C. Griffin, Works Manager, Frank Oppenheimer, general superintendent and officials of the Hudson Motor Company of Detroit, Mich., looked on.

Eight Mills

While only one of the finishing mills is in operation today, the two 3 high roughing mills and the balance of the six 2 high finishing mills will be in operation within a short time. Due to a shortage of sheet bars the mill is rolling 25 inch skelp in packs of two each.

Quite naturally the mill is not in the order yet that it soon will be. Heat treating furnaces are being finished, the normalizing furnace is not quite completed, the shears are not quite completed, and the pickling vats need a few finishing touches. But they are rolling sheets today, far sooner than it was ever anticipated.

The furnaces are 60 feet gas furnaces with the bars being fed in at one end and going through on a conveyor system. As they come out of the furnace door they are conveyed to the rolls and worked.

Heat Treating Furnaces

There are six heat treating furnaces inside of which is a 15 ton steel shell. The metal is loaded into the shell and the furnace is dropped down over it. When the heat treating or annealing is completed the furnace is lifted off and the shell set aside to cool. The (Continued on Page Two)

Mrs. Jas. Roosevelt Rushed To Hospital

Wife Of President's Oldest Son Is Found Unconscious From Sleeping Pills

BEVERLY HILLS, Cal., April 16.—(INS)—Mrs. James Roosevelt, 32, wife of the late president's oldest son, was rushed unconscious to a Beverly Hills hospital early today suffering from what physicians said was an overdose of sleeping pills.

After emergency treatment at the Beverly Hills hospital she was removed by ambulance to St. Johns hospital in Santa Monica.

Police went to the Roosevelt's Beverly Hills home in response to a telephone call from Roosevelt, who asked for an emergency ambulance for his wife.

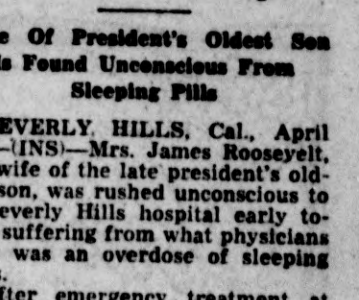

At the hospital Police Surgeon A. C. Adams and a private physician, Dr. Charles Studevant, said Mrs. Roosevelt had taken an overdose of seconal.

Lieut. Claude Marple of the Beverly Hills police said Roosevelt told him:

"My wife has been unable to sleep since the birth of our third child last January. She took sleeping tablets to induce sleep and took too many last night."

Roosevelt is the Democratic state chairman of California.

Taft Cancels Vermont Trip

Will Head For Ohio To Concentrate On Home State Campaign

WASHINGTON, April 16.—(INS)—Sen. Taft (R) Ohio, cancelled a two-day Vermont speaking trip today to head for Ohio to meet Harold E. Stassen's bold presidential challenge on home grounds.

Stassen, who walked off with top GOP honors in the Wisconsin and Nebraska presidential primaries, jumped into the Buckeye state 24 hours ahead of Taft.

Taft, a poor third in the Nebraska contest, announced that he will concentrate his campaign in seven of the 11 Ohio districts in which Stassen is seeking convention delegates.

Ohio voters will give their decision in the May 4 primary. Stassen is bidding for 23 of the state's 53 GOP convention delegates—two from each of the 11 districts and one other statewide delegate.

The Senate Republican leader said he was compelled to cancel his April 24-25 swing into Vermont because of the tight schedule imposed by the Ohio campaign.

FIRST OPERATIONS STARTED TODAY IN HUDSON PLANT

normalizing furnace is 155 feet long.

There will be five short spindled cold roll stands each coupled to the other. The finishing department will be located at the south end of the mill.

Flood Of Memories

Stepping into the mill today brought back a flood of tin mill memories. The clang of the metal as it went through the rolls, the crew in sweat caps and bandanas around their necks, the ping of the shears as they cut the twenty foot skelp into lengths for the furnace, the whirl of the giant spindles that provides power for the rolls. And back of the rolls the piles of black plate.

The work of installing the equipment was done in time that amazes men familiar with sheet mill practice. On January 5 it was doubted that the plant would be rolling within the hundred working days set. One man, John C. Griffin, works manager said it could be done and that it would be done.

It was done. Today was the proof of his confidence and his drive.

Entire Length In Use

The entire 1600 feet length of the old hot mill side will be used. Starting with the rolls and furnaces at the north end the sheets will be processed through until they reach the finishing and packing department at the south end, ready for use in the manufacture of Hudson automobiles.

It's a great day at the Valley plant. A day of resurrection of hopes that seemed too dead to ever be revived. A day of promise for the future, a promise of steel sheet for automobiles, of skilled men working at a trade they understand and of pay checks at the end of the two weeks period.

This is a day the old time tin plate men never expected to see again in New Castle. But it's here. It's a fact. In short, they're rolling sheets today.

"Even if the communist bloc fails to obtain a majority in the election Sunday but gets a sizeable vote, there is likely to be Soviet-sponsored pressure against Austria."

BALTIMORE WOMAN ATTEMPTS SUICIDE

NEW YORK, April 16.—(INS)—Miss Mary Elliott, 35, of Baltimore, was found unconscious, apparently from an overdose of sleeping pills, in her room at New York's Hotel Baltimore, today.

Physicians at Bellevue hospital said her condition was not serious. The hotel management had looked into her room, on receiving a telephone call from her sister, Mrs. Fred Nelson, of Philadelphia, who said she had just talked with Miss Elliott, adding she appeared dazed.

Two sealed notes were found in the room, one addressed to a doctor, the second to Mrs. Nelson.

In View Of News Of The World

By J. C. Ostreicher, INS Foreign Director

One of the most amazing transformations in the strange annals of politics occurred today in the person of Dr. Alcide De Gasperi, one-time assistant librarian of the Vatican.

Once hesitant, shy and retiring, unsure of his ground and of his destiny, De Gasperi now is cast in the role of "strong man" and is fulfilling the part with a self-confidence that has confused Communists and fellow-travelers throughout the world.

De Gasperi has returned to Rome from a speaking tour of the Italian provinces, completely convinced that his Christian democratic party will win the elections on Sunday.

The Italian premier is certain, moreover, that the Communist defeat will be a decisive one.

And further than this, he is calmly assured that his government will be able to cope with any strikes, mass sabotage or other demonstrations the Communists plan either to vent their rage or attempt forcible seizure of power.

De Gasperi's firm grasp of the situation stems from a number of factors.

Surprises Even Himself

For one thing, he surprised even himself by his ability to "sell" Italy as a peaceful cooperative nation to the western allies despite the heavy legacy of disgrace left behind by Benito Mussolini.

Secondly, he was immensely gratified by the speed and enthusiasm with which Great Italian statesmen like Count Carlo Sforza came out of anti-Fascist exile to rally to his cause.

Thirdly, he has the support of Pope Pius and the Catholic church, no small boon for a man who spent much of his time in the hallowed Vatican hall and wrote world-famous commentaries on the encyclicals of Roman Pontiffs.

Heart Swells With Pride

And fourth and last, he is in the final analysis a mortal human being whose heart has swelled with pride to find such vast numbers of his countrymen choosing him and his simple ways in the face of extravagant promises from Moscow and its field workers.

De Gasperi is impressed by his breadth of following. But they are equally affected by his humility and simplicity.

There were many occasions during the troubled early periods of his premiership when he asked himself and his friends if he really should carry on. He is not too strong physically, and occasionally he was heard to say that he really should take to his bed.

But Italy's greatest political test and its decisive influence as regards world communism as a whole galvanized him perhaps even beyond his own expectations.

Now he seems headed for a shining victory. Should he choose retirement when the battle is won, his people will not begrudge it in the least. The Vatican library is a peaceful place.

Looking At Life

By Erich Brandeis

That was an awfully cute story out of Barnstable, Mass., the other day, and it just goes to show what I'll show you a little later down this column.

A long-horned Texas steer, accompanied by his wife and their daughter, was leisurely walking down Route No. 6, a very much traveled highway, holding up traffic all the way down the line.

There was honking and shouting by irate motorists who were in a hurry to get wherever they were going, but the steer and his family were in no hurry at all.

Some drivers attempted to start a roundup, but, not being used to the ways of Texas, quickly gave up when the steer began snorting.

Cars were lined up a mile in each direction and the motorists became angrier and angrier.

But they didn't know what to do, and I suppose the steer knew that they didn't know what to do.

The situation seemed hopeless. Then along came a little girl on her bicycle.

Dolly Van Duzen was her name and she was about 13 years old.

Dolly rode her horse up to the bull and dismounted.

She waved her arms in the bull's face and yelled "Scat!"

Just like that, "Scat!"

That's the kind of language the animal understood. That was Texas talk. "Scat"—that sounded like business.

He gave the girl one look—and scattered. Right off the road. And, of course, his wife and the daughter went along with him.

Within a couple of minutes the road was clear and all the motorists speeded off to their destinations.

And that is the way it is with many things.

You have it in business. You have it in politics. You have it in international affairs.

You have it in your own private life.

There is a lot of shouting and yelling. There are all sorts of complicated attempted solutions for all sorts of basically simple problems.

But there is usually a very simple way of solving these simple problems.

You may call it the know-how.

The motorists didn't know how. They may have been very wise in some things.

But they didn't know how to deal with a Texas steer.

But Dolly did—and Dolly solved a very simple problem—that of getting some cattle off the road—in a very simple way.

Perhaps there is a simple "Scat" for your business worries and a "Scat" for some of your mixed-up family affairs.

Mind you, every "Scat" isn't a successful "Scat."

Dolly probably used just the right intention. She probably waved her arms in just the right way with that "Scat!"

But Dolly definitely knew how and the steer understood that she knew her business and that she meant business.

And, most important of all, I am sure that Dolly thought before she scattered.

Bible Thought

My son, forget not my law; but let thy heart keep my commandments: for length of days and years, peace, will they add to thee.—Proverbs 3:1, 2.

Checking over the time situation we find that many of the train schedules will be changed on the 25th of this month. . . they are not admitting they are going on Daylight time but it amounts to about the same thing. . . in other words a train that left here at 6:56 will on the 25th start leaving at 5:56. . . this time will prevail until fall.

Such train time changes will definitely effect the Post Office. . . and will mean that those who use the mails must do their mailing earlier in order to keep delivery on time. There are many plants and stores who use the mails to communicate with home offices. . . These communications must arrive at definite times. . . so in order to keep records up the plants and stores must set ahead their working schedules. On the 27th of April there will be an election. . . on the ballot will be a question. . . Do you wish Daylight Savings time during the months of June, July and August. Surely the people of New Castle will realize that in order to keep in step with other surrounding communities New Castle should be in step concerning the time. . . Daylight Savings time.

Tickets for the Booster Baseball Testimonial Dinner on April 21st are selling very nicely. . . There are not many people out ringing doorbells and asking people to buy tickets. . . there are however many places that have tickets for sale. . . so please drop in to anyone of them and make your purchase so that you won't be disappointed when it comes time to sit down to dinner. . . tomato juice, steak, mashed potatoes, green peas, head lettuce with Thousand Island dressing, apple pie with cheese and coffee will be the menu. . . and something that has never been presented in New Castle before. . . Many celebrities will be here in person. . . and they are all coming because they want to come to New Castle. . . this is not a money making show. . . For your information the Booster club is paying $1.50 for each dinner. . . that leaves 50 cents to pay for the dinner tickets of the guests. . . and to insure each person who attends the party a membership in the Booster club. . . whose aim is to help promote sports in the city of New Castle.

Washington Calling

(By Marquis Childs)

G. O. P. Race To Grow More Bitter

WASHINGTON, April 16.—From here on out, the race for the Republican presidential nomination is bound to grow more personal and more bitter. The target for attack from within the GOP will be Harold Stassen, who has proved in Nebraska, as he did in Wisconsin, that he is becoming the party's foremost vote-getter.

Up to this point the race has been a cozy affair, with the candidates running against President Truman. That, incidentally, is one of the reasons for the tobooggan slide in Mr. Truman's prestige and popularity. With the returns from the Nebraska primary, any resemblance to a friendly family contest is out of the window.

Stassen is the winner. Nothing succeeds like success.

Personal Equation

Yet at the same time a personal equation must be taken into account, since it has a direct bearing on whether or not Stassen will eventually get the nomination. He is heartily disliked and resented by Gov. Thomas E. Dewey and Sen. Robert A. Taft, who were respectively No. 2 and No. 3 at the Nebraska finish line. Both men feel that Stassen has gone out of his way to affront them.

Taft was angered when Stassen announced that he would enter the Ohio presidential primary, which is on May 4. This was a violation of the professional code, which says that a candidate is not to be challenged in his own home state.

The feeling was increased when Dewey's close friends say that he can never forgive Stassen for what he regards as gratuitous attacks. Several times in recent months, Stassen has belittled the New York governor for not discussing the issues. Like the invasion of Ohio, this is taken as a violation of the professional code of behavior.

These resentments might be written off as trivial by-products of an election year if it were not for the fact that they have a direct bearing on the Republican choice at Philadelphia. No matter what happens in the primaries, both Dewey and Taft will come to Philadelphia with a pocket full of delegates. Short of a first or second-ballot stampede to Stassen, it is highly unlikely they will release those delegates to the Minnesota giant-killer.

Could Unite In Opposition

While a Taft-Dewey deal to make either one of the nominees appears doubtful, they could throw their weight behind a third man who would not be Stassen. It is just here that the personal equation comes in.

Conceivably the third man might be Sen. Arthur H. Vandenberg. His strong fourth-place showing in Nebraska is impressive in view of the fact that he has repeatedly said he does not want to be a candidate and did nothing to advance himself in the Nebraska contest. By the same token, Taft's poor showing is all the more striking since he had the backing of Sen. Hugh Butler and Butler's organization in Nebraska.

From here on out, Stassen will have to combat the professionals the national committee-men and committee-women, many of whom distrust him. He is not one of their kind. He is far too independent.

Too Much An Internationalist

They have ticked off against him such examples of independence as that he was willing to serve on a committee to help the families of strikers in the prolonged United Auto Workers strike against General Motors, or many of these old timers, who have footed the bills and kept the party alive in the lean years, Stassen is far too much of an internationalist.

But they cannot ignore the fact that he is a vote-getter. Nor can they ignore the fact that he is almost the only candidate to offer the American people something positive and constructive. The Tafts and the Martins talk about what they're against. Stassen talks about a strong, free America that can remain strong and free and thereby avoid the calamity of war. The American people like that.

Mainly About Politics

(By Holmes Alexander)

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 16.—Roosevelt-haters the country over are reaching gleefully for Charles A. Beard's new book called "President Roosevelt and the Coming of War, 1941." Mr. Beard, dean of American historians, presents facts to show that FDR violated the whole conception of presidential responsibility in foreign affairs. Ero-Roosevelt critics are answering that if FDR led us to war, he also led us to victory. They are recalling Lincoln's remark about sending Gen. Grant's brand of whiskey to some of the non-drinking, non-winning generals.

Post-mortems on Gen. MacArthur's misfortune in Wisconsin indicate a change of tactics by the boosters of Gen. Eisenhower and Sen. Vandenberg. Voters, it is now assumed, are like the rest of humanity in that they most avidly desire what they apparently can't get. MacArthur's big mistake, according to the present analysis, was in declaring, perhaps, much better if he had maintained total silence and aloofness. Therefore, friends of Eisenhower and Vandenberg are not expected to press their heroes for a statement, and not to talk knowingly about their heroes' willingness to serve. Silence is the watchword in both camps.

Senator Tydings will soon come out with a plan to buy the Jews a homeland in Palestine. The sharp-witted Marylander tells me that he conceived this plan during a long illness when he had little to do but stare at the ceiling of his room in the Bethesda Naval Hospital. Here are the high points, some of which Tydings has already discussed with Jewish and Administration leaders.

International lawyers will "search the title" of the disputed Holy Land territory. "I haven't been well enough to make a close study of the United Nations partition plan," Tydings told me on the hospital porch. "But it is obviously based on expediency and not on any moral basis of ownership. We'll try to locate the legitimate heirs and then we'll sit down and negotiate a deal."

2. An international corporation, independent of the UN, will raise the funds by subscription. Tydings mentioned sums running from $50 million to $200 million, depending on the details of purchase. He mentioned half a dozen nations as possible corporate stockholders: the U. S., Great Britain, Canada and perhaps three South American republics.

3. Covenants between interested parties would be part of the bargain. There must be no trespass agreements with neighboring Arab states. All inhabitants of the purchased territory must be disarmed. A civil service police force, enlisted from the stockholders, would be established to keep law and order.

4. Eventual independence would be promised the inhabitants. Tydings, proponent of Philippine freedom, believes that patience and good-will can succeed in Palestine. He is going ahead with his plan but is open-minded as to the details.

Free lance writers around Washington aren't getting certain publicity jobs that were expected to open up with the Democratic National Committee. Three, to my knowledge, have been told that the budget won't stand their employment. A high-ranking Democrat, to whom I brought this story, said that the party headquarters' staff wasn't exactly broke but it was very hard up. Several local committees have withheld Jefferson-Jackson Day Dinner funds. Some of the city bosses have not kicked in to the national treasury. And, worst of all, the "fat cats" who make large contributions have thus far kept their checkbooks closed.

None of this means, it seems, that the Democrats are financially in extremis. Not yet, anyhow. They expect to get a $3 million campaign fund, as limited by the Hatch Act. Major parties ordinarily spend about one-sixth of this sum in pre-convention activities. The GOP headquarters will have spent, they tell me, something like $400,000-$500,000 by July. But the Democrats don't have to go that high. Their presumptive candidate, President Truman, doesn't need manufactured publicity to break into the news. Moreover, the Administration party needs hire extensive research staffs. Party leaders simply call upon Federal departments and bureaus to do their research work. But the Democrats will be in sad straits unless contributors loosen up for the big-spending period that follows the convention. It still takes money, they say, to make the donkey go.

As a result of our column entitled "The Seamy Side—2" published on March 29th and of subsequent publicity, Herman Fakler, vice president of the Miller's National Federation, has registered as of April 9th under the Lobby Registration Act.

Jobs Upon A Time

Moving Picture Actress Ona Munson is another fugitive from vaudeville and musical comedy.

Ona was born in Portland, Ore., and appeared in such stage musical hits as "No, No, Nanette," "Twinkle, Twinkle" and "Manhattan Mary." She first appeared on the screen with Joe E. Brown (in 1930) in "Going Wild," followed by "The Hot Heiress" with Ben Lyon.

Noted actor of stage, screen and radio, Walter Huston, hails from Toronto, Canada, and joined a road show when he was 18 years old. He has played in legitimate drama and vaudeville, and tried his hand at engineering work. He became connected with motion pictures in 1929, and has alternated between screen and stage ever since.

CHICAGO—Gov. Youngdahl of Minn.:—"Our children are the greatest asset this nation possesses. For the sake of our country, for our own sake, and above all for the sake of the children, the state must do everything to assure every child a normal life."

The World and the Mud Puddles

HIS OWN FIRST

New Castle has had its share of campaigns to raise money for this, that and the other purpose. They have met the challenge of these campaigns very nobly. Who would have thought that at any time New Castle people could raise one million dollars for the purpose of enlarging a hospital, but they did it and they have done just as well in their campaigns for various other things, but the canvassers for funds to carry on these noble purposes sometimes meet up with what I heard about a reputedly wealthy man who had been known for years as a large contributor to various charities.

He was approached by a delegation seeking his usual contributions. The members were surprised and chagrined when he told them that owing to his changed financial status he would be unable to continue his donations.

He has gone deeply into debt, explained, owing to certain emergencies. He had to deny himself everything but necessities and his family was undergoing certain serious deprivations. Conditions had practically doubled his normal expenses. For his own self-preservation and the sake of his wife

THE SENATE REARS UP

Firmly convinced as we are that progress should have a free rein, and despite the fact that ardent admirers of our man's best friend might shy away from granting us full fellowship in their fraternity, we nevertheless find it cheering that the Senate reared up the other day in defense of the horse.

The Senate had before it a bill to transfer four horse-breeding farms, no longer wanted by the Army because its cavalry is now mechanized, to the Department of Agriculture. And there was opposition. Senator Thomas of Oklahoma opposed the measure on the ground that, as he said, "The day of the horse is over." He wanted to abolish these remote stations and split up the one at Fort Reno, Okla., into farms for Indian veterans.

He had a lot to say about how the horse has come to the end of the trail. When he goes home he declares that he seldom sees a horse—even in the fields or on farms away back from the main roads. But the Senate refused to be led by him. It took the word of the Department of Agriculture that there is still a demand for light-weight horses, like those bred by the cavalry. So the department will keep on improving the breed, at a cost of $965,000 a year.

Maybe Senator Thomas will some day be vindicated. Maybe tractors will replace the horse entirely on our farms—all kinds of horses, all over. Maybe, that is, he was talking horse sense. But we still like to think there is a place for the horse somewhere in the American farm picture. It should be worth a moderate investment to find out.

Possibly the odds are against the horse. But many a long chance has turned out all right. Anyhow, that's how the Senate felt about it, by a majority of 43 to 15.

and children he was compelled to forego further gifts to charity. The reactions of the applicants were mixed. Some felt a touch of sympathy and understanding. But others were resentful and muttered things about greediness and shyness. One practical-minded member of the delegation, a business man, commended him for his judgment in placing the welfare of his own family first, insisting that he had done much more than his share in the past.

In general, popular opinion condemned the citizen on the ground that his failure to continue his large gifts was certain to result in unrest and depredations and crime, and in the end breed a lot of Communists. The former beneficiaries of his generosity, instead of appreciating his past favors, would appeal to the gangsters, the rackeeters and other possessors of easy wealth for their help in the future. Meanwhile the philanthropic citizen was struggling with the problems of heavy taxes, doubled wages in business, doubled material costs and practically doubled living costs. He also was carrying a tremendous interest burden on his borrowings, a large share of which were due to his former free-handed giving. In addition, he had to write off as uncollectible large sums he had lent in previous years. He was genuinely sorry to disappoint expectant beneficiaries, but justified in his own conscience by his decision.

The former wealthy individual was not, as one might think, the gentleman we know as "Uncle Sam." For unfortunately, it seems that he has not yet been forced into a position where he seems to feel it necessary to take care of his own household first.

Russu, vice-president Tom Parou, George Oprean, Sr., George Oprean, Jr., John Oprean, Nick Bunduri, Jr., Mrs. John Allean, and Sam Matt, have returned from Cleveland, where they recently, as a delegation from the society, attended the dinner given in honor of King Michael of Roumania, in the Carter Hotel, that city.

There were approximately 1100 present at the dinner, with Governor Herbert, and Mayor Burck of Cleveland giving welcoming addresses. St. Mary's church choir of Cleveland sang Roumanian native songs.

Much Activity On School Playground

With lovely weather Thursday afternoon, following several days of rain, a group of the older pupils of Mahoning school were very active on the playground during the play period.

The boys were having a baseball game, so did the girls; a group were doing basketball throwing, and a number of boys were 'skip ping rope.' At one end of the ground there was some very good pole vaulting being done. Rees Flannery, one of the teachers, supervised the period.

Columbus Women Plan For Banquet

Members of the Columbus auxiliary gathered on Wednesday evening in Columbus hall, South Liberty street, with Mrs. Rose Leone, vice president, in charge.

The trustees gave their quarterly report. It was decided to sponsor a Mothers' Day banquet on Sunday, May 23. Husbands will be guests.

Chairlady of arrangements will be Mrs. Margaret Sinibaldi. Mrs. Dorothy Melchiorre was chosen as the oldest mother of the auxiliary. Mrs. Ann Vitale was received into the organization.

Splendid refreshments were served by the officers.

Next meeting is scheduled for Wednesday, May 12, in the hall.

Members of the McClurg Fellowship class of Mahoningtown Presbyterian church, will gather this evening, at eight o'clock, for their regular meeting, in the home of Paul H. Farver, 801 West Clayton street.

At Mahoningtown Presbyterian church, a group of Westminster College students, forming the Westminster Gospel team will appear on Sunday evening, at 7:45, and present a program of music, discussion, and personal testimony. The team will also give a program at the united meeting of the ward churches young people at 8:30 Sunday evening.

Four candidates for the nomination to the General Assembly were heard. Clyde McCready, Assemblyman James C. Brice, Joseph Hensley and Earl R. Wimer, McCready and Hensley being candidates upon the Democrat ticket and Brice and Wimer on the Republican ticket. John R. Miller, a candidate for the Republican nomination to the State Senate was also introduced.

Banquet Event At Union High

Athletic Recognition Banquet Given At School—
"Tiger" Walton Is Speaker

Frank "Tiger" Walton, former University of Pittsburgh star, and one time assistant to the late Dr. John Sutherland, at Pitt and with The Steelers, was the principal speaker at the annual Union High Athletic recognition banquet staged in the school gym, with 181 present, Thursday evening.

The banquet got under way at 6:30 o'clock with Rev. Fr. John M. Unger, assistant pastor of St. Joseph's church delivering the invocation. Pep singing followed by Miss Betty Robinson. The dinner prepared and served by the Union Township PTA members was next on the program and the baked ham and all the trimmings topped off with pineapple shortcake, proved a very tasty morsel and was the means of satisfying a hungry crowd.

Burly Toastmaster
J. Arthur Turek, supervising principal of the Union Township schools, introduced the toastmaster of the evening Harold Burry, coach of swimming and cross country at Westminster college, and Burry responded with a clever job of getting the speakers to their feet.

Following the fine talk on football and athletics by Walton, which was enthusiastically received by the young athletes, Coach Charles James presented awards to the football and basketball varsity players, and managers, followed by "Sack" Roussos the assistant coach who gave awards to the junior varsity basketball players. Both James and Roussos gave short but fine talks before passing out the letters.

Miss Adelaide Hartford and Miss Annette Venditto, supervisors of the cheerleaders passed out letters also, to their charges. The music for the occasion was furnished by three young men—Teddy Wolansky, Fred Covelli and Joe Sniezek. It was much enjoyed all evening.

Gifts were presented to Coach James, Coach Roussos and Faculty Manager Charles Perz, by the boys and gifts for Miss Hartford and Miss Venditto in the form of orchid corsages were given by the girl cheerleaders.

BRAZILIAN BLAST RESULT OF PLOT

RIO DE JANEIRO, April 16.—(INS)—Brazilian War Minister Roberto Pereira de Costa charged today that a plot against his general staff was responsible for the ammunition dump explosion at Vila Militar which killed 40 persons and injured 200.

Da Costa said that he and members of the staff had reviewed 12,000 recruits and regular infantry units at the Vila Militar base only half an hour before the blast.

PARIS—The French government has plans for a series of 20 dams on the Rhone river.

Sons Give 'Dad' The "Works"

NEW WILMINGTON, April 16.—Receiving the "works" from his three sons, all students at Westminster College, is Walter Shaffer, veteran local barber who has been trimming the hair of college students since the early '20s.

Always interested in Westminster, Walter had looked forward to the day when his own children would enter the school. Now he and Mrs. Shaffer have the distinction of having more children attending the college than any other parents. The boys are, left to right, Bob, a business major, a journalism major, and Clyde, also a business major and a member of the Titan cage team. A daughter, Mrs. Betty Sallade and a daughter-in-law, Mrs. Robert Shaffer, are secretaries at the college.

Mother And Son Are Found Dead

DOYLESTOWN, Pa., April 16.—(INS)—A mother and her 14-year-old son were found dead in their beds today at a Doylestown cabin settlement.

Police said the woman—Mrs. Jane Page, 52—and her son, John, had been suffocated by gas fumes. The pair formerly lived in Atlantic City.

Mrs. Page is a widow, according to police, and she and her son had been living at the settlement known as "state's cottages" intermittently during the past two years.

The bodies were discovered by Hollis W. Ross, an engineer occupying an adjoining cabin, who detected a gas smell when he returned home early this morning.

GIRL SCOUTS

Troop 31

Girl Scout troop 31 met in the Highland U. P. church on Tuesday and the Girl Scout promise was recited while forming the horseshoe ring. The older girls gathered in a group and discussed child care badge.

Some of the girls plan to head diapers to be sent to the national Girl Scout clothing project. The girls went to their patrols and the Little Pioneer patrol went to the basement where they played games.

Friendship circle was formed while camp folders were being distributed. Scribe, Lillian Armstrong.

Says White House Definite 'Firetrap'

WASHINGTON, April 16.—(INS)—W. E. Reynolds, federal commissioner of public buildings, believes that the White House is a "definite fire risk."

Reynolds' belief was disclosed in asking a Senate appropriations subcommittee to appropriate $50,000 to make plans for modernization of the executive mansion.

Definite Hazard

He explained that he hesitated to say the condition of the historic mansion actually is "dangerous," but there is a definite fire hazard in the building and that, moreover, there is evidence of strain on the second floor.

The request caused committee members to wisecrack that perhaps some of the presidential candidates would not be so eager if the White House actually is a fire trap.

CANCER RESEARCH INSTITUTE OPENS

NEW YORK, April 16.—(INS)—The world's largest institution devoted solely to cancer research was opened today in New York City.

It is the Sloan-Kettering Institute, housed in a 14-story building and representing an expenditure of $2,652,500, the institute is the gift of Alfred P. Sloan Jr.

The building is an addition to the Memorial Hospital Center for cancer and allied diseases.

Sending Troops To Alaska To Train

WASHINGTON, April 16.—(INS)—The army is sending anti-aircraft and other ground combat units from the west coast and Hawaii to undergo summer training with air units in Alaska.

An announcement said that the new troops will bring "into balance" the forces in the strategically located Arctic area which at present number 7,000 service troops and about 9,000 air force soldiers. The number of men going to Alaska was not disclosed.

BUMPS AND FALLS

Our citizens seem to be very prone to accidents.

Every year thousands of people get hurt.

Farmers seem to have the most trouble. It used to be easy to fall from a load of hay. Nowadays it seems to be easier to get run over by a tractor.

Burns, bumps and falls cause a lot of trouble.

Many of these hurts might be prevented by using a little foresight.

Sharp corners or projections should be eliminated.

Fire places and stoves should be made safe. Too many burns result from clothes catching fire at an open gas stove.

Stairs should be well lighted and clear.

Knives and scissors should be kept away from children.

Poisons should not be kept in the house.

Chest Fund Pledges Paid Almost In Full

Annual audit of New Castle's Community Chest, made by a local certified public accountant, shows a balance of $2,173.06, after all payments for the fiscal year ending last October 31. The audit, which has been submitted to the chest's executive committee, is a requirement of the state when making application for a solicitation certificate.

The audit contains a comparative financial statement for the years 1947 and 1946. The total pledges for 1947 amounted to $91,402.22 compared with $100,246.01 for 1946. In 1946, however, the fund included an allocation to the Pennsylvania war fund of $15,000. Payments to local agencies during the 1947 fiscal year were $50,100, compared with $68,500 to local agencies in 1946. Campaign and administrative expenses in 1947 amounted to $7,928.86 compared with $6,245.87 in 1946.

Of particular interest in the report is the low percentage of pledges unpaid. During the 1946 year $2,522.26 remains unpaid, or 2.51 per cent of pledges made. For the 1947 fiscal year the auditors estimate an uncollectible total of only $1,200, or 1.31 per cent. In other words, during the year ending last October almost 99 cents out of every dollar pledged in the campaign was available for the agencies or to meet the necessary expenses of conducting the campaign and administering the fund. The auditors verified cash accounts and other assets of the chest and pointed out that liabilities were made up entirely of minor expense bills which were paid during the month following the close of the fiscal year.

A copy of the audit is on file in the office of the Community Chest, 20½ E. Washington street, and is available for examination by anyone interested.

TIPS FOR STORING WINTER WOOLENS

Be certain all winter clothes are clean before you store them. If your clothes are clean when you put them away, they will give you longer service in wear and appearance.

Check every garment. Your dark woolen garments may not have been worn often and may not look soiled, but they collect dust and soil.

If you suspicion that the hem will have to be changed when you use the garment next season, rip it out now before you have the garment washed or cleaned. If the hem is ripped out before washing or cleaning, more of the tell-tale hemline mark is removed.

If you know what caused a spot on a garment you take to be cleaned, tell the cleaner what it is. It is easier for him to remove a stain if he knows what caused it.

For the winter garments that are washable, make a rich suds of a neutral soap, one that is not strong with lye. Dissolve the soap thoroughly in hot water and cool the water to lukewarm temperature. Squeeze the suds through the garment gently. Do not crowd the garment in the water. Use more than one suds if necessary. Rinse the garment in water the same temperature as the suds; a change from warm to cold water or vice versa may cause the garment to shrink. Rinse the garment until the water rinses out clear. Squeeze out water and roll the garment in a dry towel. Spread it on a flat surface to dry. You may hang it on a line to dry, only if you are sure the garment is firm enough to keep its shape. Press the garment with a cool iron when it is almost dry.

Pack the garments you are putting away for the year in airtight packages or containers. Put the sweater or wool socks you may want for the summer camping trip in a separate package. Label all packages.

CLEAN PLOWING HELPS CONTROL CORN BORER

For control of the European corn borer which has been causing serious losses to farm crops, especially corn, clean plowing is the most effective remedy. Wire attachments help.

Cornstalks, corncocks, weeds, and other plant residues in which borers spend the winter must be plowed under, and ground surfaces free of this material before May 1. On that date the borers begin emerging as moths to start a new cycle of destruction.

Most corn hybrids stand up better than open pollinated varieties under borer infestation. Control measures are just as important for sweet corn areas as those planted to field corn. Borers damage or destroy field corn, sweet corn, early potatoes, thick-stemmed vegetable plants, and many thick-stemmed flowering plants.

Any rubbish harboring the borers which cannot be plowed under should be collected and burned.

The best corn borer control is obtained where whole communities join in these efforts.

TRUMAN NOMINATES BUCHANEAN TO FPC

WASHINGTON, April 16.—(INS)—President Truman has nominated Thomas Chalmers Buchanan, of Beaver County, Pa., to be a member of the Federal Power Commission.

The President also re-nominated Harrington Wimberley to the commission for a five-year term.

Buchanan, who is an attorney, replaces Burton N. Behling, whose nomination was withdrawn. The term runs until 1952.

GIVEN LIFE TERM

BRIDGEPORT, Conn., April 16.—(INS)—An 18-year-old Pittsburgh, Pa., youth, Roger Ross, pleaded guilty to second degree murder Thursday and drew an immediate sentence to life imprisonment.

The sentence was imposed by Superior Court Judge John A. Cornell for the January 2 slaying of Frank J. Denese, 43, a printer, in his suburban Stratford home.

DODDS DIVIDES DOLLAR

To give you some idea of where your tax dollar goes for general purposes, County Controller Andrew M. Dodds has divided the expenses of the county to show where the money goes.

For every dollar you pay for general county purposes 44.561 per cent goes for general government expenses. This includes the commissioners', treasurer's, county controller's, and recorder of deeds' offices, and others.

Judicial costs which include the courts, register of wills, probatory, district attorney, law library and aldermen, justices of the peace and constables, take 26.78 per cent. Correction, which includes the probation and parole officer, the jail and similar functions takes 16.45 per cent.

Charities, which include insane hospitals, maintenance of children and such costs, take 1.222 per cent. Miscellaneous costs such as superintendent of schools, agriculture, employees' retirement and group insurance takes 8.327 per cent.

Non-governmental expenses such as refunds and office credits takes 2.66 per cent.

By FONTAINE FOX

IN THE OPEN

At first glance the large expanse of water in the impounding reservoir appeared to be unoccupied by any of the migratory waterfowl. Even the shore birds were conspicuous by their absence.

We threaded the devious path which edges its way around two inlets. The thickets were full of birds. Juncoes and tree sparrows were having one last soiree before heading North and settling down to household cares.

Robins and chickadees and cardinals were active in the undergrowth, and we heard the unmistakable minstrel music of the brown thrasher. This fellow was rushing the season a bit, but he demonstrated rare musicianship from a favorite perch somewhere in an abandoned orchard on the hillside.

See Canvasback Ducks Suddenly we marked down a pair of canvas back ducks etching two V-shaped wakes across the dam. They were nervous and in a hurry. Finally they could stand the strain no longer and while our attention was elsewhere they skittered into the air and away from there. A few moments later they came whistling along overhead at top speed.

A large white bird had disrupted.

ed our interest in the canvasbacks. This fellow flew up from the shallows at the edge of the dam and beat his way on unhurried wings along the shoreline, coming to a halt on the flats at the head of the reservoir.

We had no glasses for proper field work, but the size of this gull-like aviator, and his black cap, clearly identified him as the Caspian tern, nominally a seabird but often noted as a migrant on the larger inland waterways.

'Six Mallards Take Off' In a try for a closer look at this rather rare visitor we moved slowly along through the screen of scrub willow. There was sudden commotion on the water just ahead and a group of six mallards took off. They gained altitude in a hurry to the tune of a characteristic mallard alarm cry, we saw them later on another dam a mile or so distant, "rattling" with a large party well away from the shoreline and surprise intruders.

While all this was going on the big tern went quietly about the business of picking up an afternoon snack as and where he could find it. We moved up to within fifty yards. He flitted with the idea of flying off, but each time circled back and settled again on the water. Finally he waded out on the mud flats and hobbled around awkwardly, giving the impression that he was performing a grotesque dance.

Epitome of Grace On the wing this tern is the epitome of grace and flying skill. He would hover just above the water, and then snatch up his prize, and once he dove head first, in the manner of the kingfisher. While he was thus engaged, a belted kingfisher came along to see what was going on in his fishing grounds. He rattled around at a great rate, hovered high above the shallows, and then set a course for the other end of the dam.

The tern was careful not to let us close that 50-yard gap. Satisfied that we had named him properly, we wandered off through the nearby timberland, enjoying the carpet of spring beauty stretched out across the brown cushion of the forest floor, and the tangy aroma of the little spice bush, which was in full flower.

Red Headed Woodpecker Down through the trees came the querulous alarm note of the red headed woodpecker. This is a distinctive note of the countryside, as though this red-head was rolling his r's. A crow came stealthily through the trees, keeping a weather eye on the pair of interlopers who were approaching his nesting site. As we were leaving the timber three of these self-appointed home guards came yelling along behind a big hawk which looked from beneath like the marsh harrier. The profane crow talk was clearly unprintable.

Drums are rolling once again in the valleys and on the mountain benches in the trout country. The countryman thrills to these drums even as he shudders at the incessant drums of war. The ruffed grouse is beating those mountain drums as invitations to try the fighting brookies where the white-wash rushes down out of the mountains to the Seven Seas. I've already sent in my acceptance.

An Outstanding Year in Metropolitan's History

"1947 was one of the best years in the history of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company.

"The Company's financial position was excellent. More Metropolitan policyholders than ever before enjoyed the blessings of life insurance. Through investments, the Company played a bigger role than in any preceding year in helping to keep the wheels of industry turning... to provide jobs and homes... and to maintain high standards of living.

"However, the year was not without its problems. Insurance costs were higher because of lower interest rates, and because of the prevalent increase in the cost of goods and services."

President Leroy A. Lincoln reported these facts in his account of the Company's 1947 activities in a motion picture entitled "Pages From An Open Book." Here are some other important facts about 1947 presented by Mr. Lincoln:

—Payments to policyholders and beneficiaries totalled $671,000,000—topping all records.

—More than 2,300,000 people bought Metropolitan policies during the year. The total of Metropolitan policyholders reached 32,384,000.

—At the year-end, policyholders owned a total of $37,250,000,000 of Metropolitan protection—the greatest amount in the Company's history.

—Metropolitan will pay in 1948 somewhat more in dividends to policyholders than in 1947, although there will be downward adjustments for certain classes of business.

Mr. Lincoln also reported that last year a committee representing all State Insurance Departments completed, as required by law, a periodic examination of Metropolitan. In their conclusions, the examiners reported:

"The examination of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company indicates that it is in a sound financial condition."

"Policy claims are paid promptly, and fair and equitable treatment has been accorded the policyholders."

Metropolitan's Annual Report for 1947, which is entitled "Pages From An Open Book," contains much additional information about the Company's operations. If you would like to have this booklet, fill in and mail the coupon below. A copy will be sent to you without charge.

PRODUCTION CLIMBS
HARRISBURG, April 16.—(INS)—Milk and egg production on Pennsylvania farms climbed sharply during March, it was reported Thursday by the State Agriculture Department.

Output was approximately 2,000,000 pounds below that of March 1947 due to slightly fewer milk cows on farms this year, it added. Egg production in March advanced 69,000,000 to total 333,000,000, despite a two per cent decrease in the number of layers. Sharp seasonal gains were made in late March when the weather turned warm, farmers reported.

Taylor's Foes Force Move

Claim One Victory In Fact
Taylor Resorts To Radio
Speech

OTHER NEWS OF STATE AFFAIRS

HARRISBURG, April 16.—(INS)—Insurgent Republicans trying to upset GOP State Chairman M. Harvey Taylor's bid for renomination in Dauphin county's senatorial race can claim one "victory." Their campaign prompted Taylor to make one of the very few radio addresses in his political life. . . . Voters in the county are beginning to speculate about the insurgent state for four House posts and the State Senate since they learned the big backers are wealthy men. . . . Walter Mumma, candidate for Taylor's seat, is a wealthy contractor; campaign manager Ben Wolfe is a wealthy dairyman and Dr. James K. Loewen a wealthy dentist. Taylor says he "dumped" Loewen because he had become a political liability.

The Pennsylvania Federation of Labor (AFL) has issued an invitation to the public to sit in on its annual convention beginning May 3 in Pittsburgh. . . . President James L. McDewitt paved the way for the unprecedented move. . . . He explained his organization wanted voters to see that "democracy works in labor unions too." The PFL may present a good anti-Communism show for the public. . . . The executive board has recommended repudiation of Henry A. Wallace and his third party and the entire federation is expected to denounce them at the meeting. Pre-convention preparations have included proposals to bar Communists from the assembly and it is likely the PFL will reassert its opposition to the Red party line.

The State Liquor Control Board's 11th annual report disclosed that it did not maintain outlets in Forest and Union counties. . . . A LCB spokesman said there were not sufficient people in the counties to justify stores. . . . Only two counties ended 1947 with sales averages above 1946 levels. . . . Montgomery county ended the year with sales in 20 stores up 4.6 per cent while two stores in Monroe county closed the year with sales up 3.2 per cent.

Old Timers in the State Department of Forests and Waters, headed by retired Adm. Milo F. Draemel, wryly refer to the agency as a "Sailors' Snug Harbor." The name stems from Draemel's appointments of many of his navy associates to cushy jobs in the department where they serve at fat salaries in addition to drawing pensions from the navy.

Strasburg Woman Is Hundred Today

Longevity Of Centenarian, Miss Annie Heilbeck, Is Credited To Daily Diet

LANCASTER, Pa., April 16.—(INS)—Miss Annie Heilbeck of Strasburg, celebrating her 100th birthday anniversary today, credits her long life partly to what she eats.

"Be careful of your diet, avoiding large amounts of gravy, pork and rich foods," advises the still alert centenarian. "And keep busy by having hobbies."

She still washes the dishes from a specially built wheel chair. Miss Annie, as her friends call her, received a testimonial certificate from the Pennsylvania Medical society. The medical society also is marking its 100th anniversary this year and awarding citations to 100-year-old persons throughout the state. District Attorney John M. Rank made the presentation to the Strasburg woman.

Miss Annie reads her Bible, her church paper and Baer's almanac. She used to crochet but has given that up.

A school teacher for ten years in her early days and later a practical nurse, she has always been interested in the health and education of her town children.

When Herbert Miller, a Strasburg native, was appointed judge of the Philadelphia municipal court last fall, he received this brief note from Miss Annie, once his Sunday school teacher:

"Remember the New Testament I gave you when you left here, Herbert. My congratulations but don't ever get so far into politics that you forget the teachings of the Bible."

Youth Confesses Death Of Girl In Auto Near Medina

Clark Hill, 19, Of Medina Center,
Confesses Killing Of Girl
By Carbon Fumes

MEDINA, O., April 16.—(INS)—Nineteen-year-old Clark Hill of Medina Center, admitted "love potion" killer of pretty Jeanette Weiner, 17, to be charged with first-degree murder today in Medina.

The former Ohio State university student signed a lengthy statement late yesterday in which he told Medina County Prosecutor William G. Batchelder Jr. that he ran a hose from the exhaust into the car.

The resulting carbon monoxide fumes caused the death of the girl, according to a report submitted by Cuyahoga County Coroner Samuel R. Gerber.

Hill, who had been under observation at Medina Community hospital following his claim that he had been paralyzed by the fumes, admitted the murder after Dr. Gerber also submitted evidence that the pair had engaged in intimacies in the parked car last Friday night.

Hill confessed that he gave the girl an aphrodisiac before taking her on the ill-fated ride.

Oppose Proposed Milk Price Cuts

HARRISBURG, April 16.—(INS)—Western Pennsylvania farmers today opposed May-June milk price cuts proposed by the Milk Control commission while dealers objected to a recommended drop in cream prices in the 13-county Pittsburgh marketing area.

During a hearing at the state capitol, farmer representatives predicted a milk shortage if the tentative order becomes effective. A dealer spokesman forecast damaging business losses under a reduced cream price scale.

Stassen Accepts Westminster "Nomination"

Harold E. Stassen of Minnesota accepted a Republican "nomination" for the presidency Thursday afternoon in Youngstown, O. The nomination was that of the Westminster college mock Republican convention held a week ago.

In accepting the mock nomination, former Governor Stassen said: "I trust this nomination is the forerunner of another nomination which will have the word mock taken out of it."

"I want to congratulate the students of Westminster college for their interest in public affairs and in the mechanics of politics," said Stassen. "It is to be hoped they will continue that interest in later life."

The "nomination" was tendered

Grove City College Five-Year Plan Being Launched

Includes Erection Of Five Major
Buildings And Expenditure
Of Nearly $3,000,000

GROVE CITY, April 16.—Impetus supplied by a gift of $1,500,000 from the Pew family of Philadelphia, contingent upon a like sum being raised by Grove City college, has encouraged trustees of the western Pennsylvania institution to launch a five-year development plan, announced at a recent conference with alumni officers.

The program includes erection of five major buildings and the expenditure of approximately $3,000,- 000. As outlined by J. Howard Pew, president of the board of trustees, the program includes a new gymnasium and recreation center with an alumni annex, a new library, new dormitories for men and women, and a new engineering building. Because a part of the funds have been raised for alumni hall, the gymnasium and hall will be the first building scheduled for construction.

Efforts to raise funds will be under the direction of a small committee of the board of trustees, assisted by the entire membership.
The central committee consists of William M. Robinson, chairman; Lewis W. Hicks, vice chairman, and
W. H. Burchfield, all of Pittsburgh;
Wilson A. Campbell, Sewickley, Pa.;
Harry J. Crawford, Emmenton, Pa.;
B. C. Hopeman, Waynesboro, Va.;
and John G. Pew, Chester, Pa. It is expected that the General Alumi Association will undertake a campaign among its members, former students and friends of the college, and that a campaign will be carried out in Grove City.

Each building will be erected as funds become available. Locations will be on the upper campus to conform to a plan developed several years ago.

The octobas is a musical instrument so large that it is not used in orchestras. It is a double bass invented by Vuttalume in 1851.
It is four meters high and has three strings which are stopped by mechanism. The tone is powerful and mellow.

"It's nice of you, caddie, to find all these, but you haven't found MY ball."

Around Hollywood

By FRANK NEILL
(International News Service Staff Correspondent)

HOLLYWOOD, April 16.—(INS)—

The guy who said life begins at 40 never heard about ten Hollywood babes who call themselves the "indestructibles."

They are the world's most unorthodox hoopers.

Few women in Hollywood ever admit they're past 35, but the "indestructibles" are breaking that unwritten rule and getting away with it.

Their aggregate age is 723 years.

Snagged By Movies

For the past five years they have been dancing nightly in Ken Murray's ageless "Blackouts," and now the movies have snagged them.

Manager of the ten dancing
grandmas is roly-poly Mabel Hart.
She's the baby of the bunch—a mere 66.

Mrs. Hart, excited as a kid at Christmas over becoming a picture actress, said today:

"They used to keep an oxygen tent handy in case one of us collapsed."

"I haven't missed a single performance in 'Blackouts' for five years. And for nearly four years we didn't have a night off."

Chorine Grandmother

Mrs. Hart, who enjoys being a chorine and a grandma at the same time, added:

"The only regret we have is that the wolves who whistle at us no longer whistle through their own teeth."

The "indestructibles," who also are billed as the "Elderlovelies," admit owning 42 grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

Among the troupe are many famous old vaudeville headliners.

There is Mabel Butterworth, who played Tony Pastor's back in '98.
She belonged to the original Butterworth sisters.

Another member of the line,
Perle Kinkaid, did "Diamond Lil" with Mae West. She also was in the first "Blossom Time" cast.

Ivanetta Gardner has eight grandchildren and is proud of a war department medal for 2,500 hours of knitting she did for servicemen during that last fracas.

Signed By Murray

The gals originally got together about eight years ago at Long Beach, Calif. They originated as a non-professional group that went in heavy for community singing and entertaining.

Murray caught their act one night and signed the cuties en masse for his show.

They'll have individual dramatic roles in "Isn't It Romantic?", a Paramount musical featuring Veronica Lake, Mary Hatcher and Mona Freeman.

Mabel Hart feels so young she refuses to accept her social security income. She lives alone in a small apartment and brags she is known as "Miss Atomic Bomb of 1990!"

HOW DO CHILDREN EVER LEARN TO READ WITHOUT LEARNING THEIR A-B-Cs OR PHONICS FIRST?

Learning to read today is planned as an interesting, stimulating and satisfying experience. We try to make reading full of meaning for the children right from the start.
It has long been known that people do best what they enjoy doing. It follows that the child will learn to read faster if he likes to read.
Learning the A-B-Cs forward and backward can be very dull work for the young boy or girl who does not yet know what they mean. It would be as interesting for them as for you to learn the Chinese alphabet.
The children's interest is stimulated with the new type of reading because there is always something new to think about and enjoy. In the new method of teaching, the pupils learn enough words and phrases so they can read some simple stories. After they have read and enjoyed these stories, they turn to the mechanics of the language, learning first the sounds of the various letters and combinations of letters (syllables). Finally they learn the letters themselves. The children do just what has always been done in grade one only somewhat in reverse. New words are presented as symbols. The word JUMP is accompanied with a picture of someone jumping and thus the child understands what he learns. In each reading lesson the teacher will present other words—a few at a time—the way she presented jump. The children will meet these words again and again in stories, drills, pictures, etc. In his first year a child will learn to recognize about 300 words at sight.

By the end of grade three his stock of sight words will have grown to around 2000.

Babson Discusses Stalin And Communist Plans

(Copyright, 1948, Publishers Financial Bureau, Inc.)

EUREKA, Kans., April 16.—I have never met Mr. Stalin; but I have friends who have often talked with him. Some of them have been at the famous conferences attended by Mr. Stalin, Mr. Churchill and Mr. Roosevelt. I therefore, am using my column this week to answer certain inquiries coming to me. The conclusions are not pleasant.

Some Definitions
There are three different economic or social theories today. They are: (1) Capitalism. This is what is commonly known as free enterprise which has been so successful in the United States. (2) Fascism. This has been tried in Germany, Italy and Japan; it is a form of state capitalism where persons continue to own their property but use it as the state directs. (3) Communism. This is where there is no private ownership. Communism is Socialism with brutality added. One country could get on under either the Capitalistic system or Fascistic system by itself; but Communism or Socialism probably needs a world organization in order to make it work. At least, this is what Mr. Stalin thinks.

Stalin's Ultimate Goal
Therefore, Stalin's goal is to eliminate Capitalism. Anyone responsible for making a success of Communism would probably have the same aim as Stalin. The Labor government in England is gradually coming to this same conclusion. It is not ruthless like the Communists, but even their leaders believe that their success depends upon having the same program adopted by all other leading countries.

Therefore, it is possible that as soon as Russia gets the atomic bomb she may blow up the big cities of the United States. She may have no thought of landing troops here or of taking over our government. It would be only one step in her campaign of destroying Capitalism. Her hope would be that—our big cities destroyed—a Socialistic system would be needed to operate our remaining industries. This would also eliminate undue competition from industries in communistic nations.

What Will the Communists Do?
If this is their program then, when the Russians get the atomic bomb, they may get these bombs planted, by their own friends, in the center of our big American cities. It would be easy to get them over here in trunks, or in bales of goods. They could be smuggled across our borders in automobiles, trucks or airplanes without being detected by custom examiners. Then the Russian agents could deposit these in their boarding houses in our big cities until the time came to explode them at a certain moment on a certain day. Time clocks could be used so that the Russians would have time to get away. Thus all these cities could be destroyed at a certain set hour.

Of course, the Russians would expect that we would retaliate with our airplanes. On the other hand, how can we then prove that it is the Russian government, or the Spanish government, or the Argentine government that does the damage? Of course, the time would be selected when we are more or less in a row with all of these governments. Therefore, our big cities could completely be destroyed without our knowing for sure who destroyed them and certainly without our war having been declared.

Final Result
What the final result would be nobody can foretell. With a dozen of our biggest cities destroyed, there would not be much hope for Capitalism for many years to come. Thus, the purpose of the Communists would have been attained. They might try to have a hand in the government of the United States; but it would then be taken over by the people of the smaller cities and rural communities, largely the people of our central west. If my prognostications come about, which I hope they will not, it certainly means that the people of our central west will someday have a great opportunity and responsibility. The question is are these people now preparing for such even though it may be a remote possibility?

Squad Leaders Club Intrigues Audience With Dance Program

History Of Dance Given In Assembly Programs At New Castle Senior High School

The squad leaders club of New Castle High under the direction of Mrs. Margaret Dunlap and Mrs. Marion Patton was presented in an outstanding production at the school this morning and Thursday morning when the history of the various dances was enacted by members of the club before an assemblage of students and visitors from many adjoining cities.

The ladies taking part in the creation presented a pleasing picture as they appeared in their coral gym suits moving gracefully about revealing the painstaking effort that was put forth in training the girls in the intricate dances that they presented. As the various dances were given, Miss Emmy Shaffer accompanied on the piano while Jayn Walker read the history of that particular dance.

Outstanding in the production was the fact that the young ladies were all costumed in garments that applied to the time of the dance that they were depicting. Drawing the most applause was the "Charleston" done in costumes of 1925 which drew an encore. The stage was decorated with palms and ferns with the words "Squad Leaders Club" in coral letters forming the background.

Boy Loses Life In Flood Waters

MAHAFFEY, Pa., April 16.—(INS)—Firemen and other volunteers today were still searching the swollen waters of Chest Creek for the body of nine-year-old Edward Westover, of Westover.

Edward fell into the swirling waters while walking along a retaining wall.
John Edgar Stumph, 23, leaped into the creek and grabbed hold of the boy. They were carried downstream about a quarter of a mile.

when Stumph grabbed an overhanging branch from a tree and as he struggled to hold on the branch broke and he lost his hold on the boy.

Stumph suffered from exhaustion and was under treatment by a physician.

Serve up citrus juice unstrained, if you want to get your full quota of vitamin C from the fruit. If you must strain the juice, don't use copper or copper alloy sieves. U. S. Department of Agriculture nutritionists caution: Reason: vitamin value is decreased when the juice comes in contact with the metal.

Home Economics Groups Convene

Women Of Rural District Have Annual Meeting In Epworth Church, Thursday

HOME-MAKING IS DISCUSSED

Home economics groups from the rural sections of Lawrence county had their annual meeting in Epworth Methodist church Thursday, with 125 women in attendance.

The program lasted from 10 a. m. to three p. m., with a dinner served by the women of the church at the noon hour.

Mrs. Mae Barton, clothing specialist of Penn State college, spoke on home sewing with the professional touch, and gave a few of the details of the new, speedy method of sewing. She stressed the importance of good equipment and the need for accurate cutting of the garment, particularly in reference to the grain line.

The system was well illustrated during the style show, which was a part of the dinner program, with Mrs. Barton as narrator and the women of the Mahoning and Slippery Rock township groups as models. All had used the same pattern but had expressed their own individual touch in making changes and adding decorative trim.

Program Varied
The program was further varied with group singing, contests, musical and reading selections, and skits.

The main speaker of the afternoon was Dr. Robert F. Galbreath, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, who spoke on the peoples of Palestine, in which he told of their customs and manner of living.

Miss Rosalind Jewett of Penn State college spoke on the theme of the day's meeting, "Today's Home Builds Tomorrow's World." She called attention to the national demonstration week, which will take place from May 1 to May 8, at which time this theme will be further stressed.

Miss Jean Craumer of Beaver county, former assistant home economics worker here, brought greetings, and Miss Emmeline Mehlman, home economics worker, spoke in regard to the 4-H program for Lawrence county, and also expressed her appreciation to all those who had contributed to the success of yesterday's meeting.

Sno-Tops, Eagles Collide For Title

Junior Tourney Survivors Ready For Big Contest

Gus "Little Five" And Thompsons Meet In Consolation Game At 7:30

The stage is set for the city-county junior championship for cage supremacy. The principals are the Hoover Sno-Toppers and the Eagles club juniors. The toss-up will go to 8:30, with the main contest preceded by a consolation clash between the Gus "Little Five" and the Thompson Drug quint, both semi-finalists.

One of the largest crowds of the season is expected as basketball makes its last curtain call at the Y.M.C.A. floor.

Old Home Week
The title game will bear all the earmarks of "old home week" at senior high school. Most of the personnel making up the two titlists are fresh off the Hurricane squad and rivalry is intense.

The Sno-Toppers are led by Don Black, phantom-footed scoring ace, whose sensational play in the tourney has stamped him as one of its outstanding participants. He runs with Greg Thomas at the guards. The latter team sank 20 points Wednesday night in the semi-final victory. Big Wayne Fullerton, six foot, four skyscraper, will anchor the pivot, while the forwards are Arnie Lewis and Billy (The Kid) Boyd.

The Eagles' lineup boasts two performers who were teammates of Black and Fullerton during the high school campaign—Fleet Wayne Gray and Don Reed. This pair has dominated the scoring for the Eagles in the tourney and figure to put on a show tonight. Dick Hamilton will probably run with Gray at the other forward, while Dick Lewis and Gordy Kerr will handle the back court assignment.

Imposing Prize List
Following the two games Jimmy Dart, "Y" physical director and tourney supervisor, will pass out an imposing array of trophies and individual prizes. First through fourth place teams will be given cups while individual stand-outs on the all-tourney teams and for scoring marks will also be honored. The most outstanding player and his runner-up will also be chosen by a group of judges.

LEGION JUNIORS MEET TONIGHT
Wee Mann will meet with all teams interested in the American Legion Junior Baseball league at the Legion home tonight at 7 o'clock. It was announced. It looks like an eight-team loop this year.

Horne Returns To McGowan's Stable

Pugilistic history was made here when Sonny Horne, of Niles, (center), one of the nation's leading middleweights, and who has twice gone the distance with Rocky Graziano, returned to the management of Matt McGowan (shown on the right). Jimmy Dunn of Cleveland (left), will tutor the Ohio fighter, having managed such topnotch flite figures as Johnny Kilbane, Carl Troselove, Bryan Downey, and others.

It will be recalled that Horne, who got his start here, as an amateur, parted from McGowan and went under the wing of Al Lang of New York. Since the second Graziano fight he decided to return to the Niles manager. The arrangement was made at the Jefferson A. C. in the city.

WORKOUT AT DESHON
The DeCarbo baseball team of the American Legion league will stage a workout this evening at Deshon Annex beginning at 5:30. It is announced by Nick George. All regular players and anyone else desiring to play with the team are asked to report.

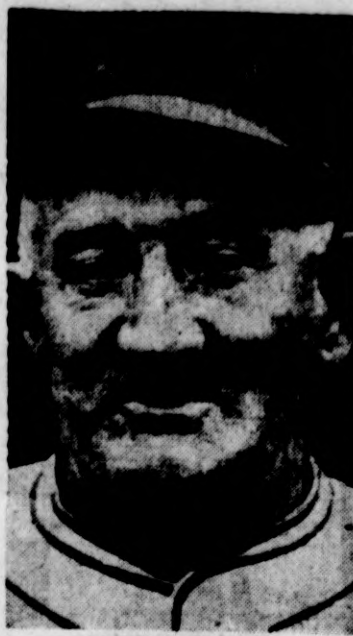

Planning Warm Welcome To "Chiefs"

Never in New Castle's history has baseball taken such a hold as the announcement a while back that the city would be represented in the Mid-Atlantic league this year with a fast club. The Niagara Falls franchise was transferred here lock, stock and barrel, by Owner John Gabril.

New Castle fans have an opportunity next Wednesday at the Cathedral to show their appreciation of the class C team that will operate at P. J. Flaherty field this summer. The New Castle Booster club has arranged a big testimonial banquet starting at 7 o'clock, and has secured Manager Billy Meyer of the Pittsburgh Pirates as the principal speaker. Another interesting speaker will be "Hans" Wagner, one of the greatest shortstops of all time.

Can Meet Players
General Manager George Smith has made arrangements to have all of the signed stars here for the banquet, so that the fans can greet them personally and get to know them. Owner Gabril will also be at the banquet and will be introduced.

Coming from Pittsburgh with Meyer and Wagner are Attorney

HONUS WAGNER
One of Speakers

Thomas H. Johnson, former New Castle boy, part owner of the Pirates; Roy Hamey, the general manager; Al Schlenker, assistant treasurer, and one other part owner of the Pirates who is quite famous.

The Booster club is holding another meeting at 8 o'clock tonight at The Castleton to check on ticket sales. It is planned to close the sale by Saturday night, to allow the women time to prepare the banquet.

The tickets are selling for $2 which gives you a fine meal, a chance to hear national baseball celebrities, and also hold a Booster club card for the year 1948.

Several From Out of Town
New Castle is a great baseball town, let's show our appreciation to the "Chiefs". Bill Francis, local auto dealer and humorist, has been secured to toastmaster the banquet and keep things humming. The "Barber Shop" quartet is all set for a big evening too, with snappy numbers.

An invitation has been extended to President Elmer Daily of the Mid-Atlantic league, and to Secretary Russell Hockenberry to attend the dinner. Another acceptance of an invitation was received yesterday from Claire Kelly, vice president of the Vandergrift team, and Jimmy Gibson, Vandergrift secretary. Other owners from Johnstown, Erie, Butler, Oil City and Youngstown are going to attend.

Cards Given National Top Rung On Pitching

(Editor's Note: The following roundup, dealing with the National league, is the first of a series of two articles previewing the major league baseball season, which opens next week.)

By LES CONKLIN
(International News Service Sports Writer)
NEW YORK, April 16.—(INS)—The St. Louis Cardinals, because of their brilliant pitching staff, have been made betting favorites to win the National league pennant race. The Boston Braves have been rated second choice and the champion Brooklyn Dodgers third, with the New York Giants relegated to fourth place because of lack of pitching depth.

The St. Louis mound corps is headed by Howie Pollet, Murry Dickson, George Munger and Harry Brecheen. Dickson pitched a no-hitter recently.

Dodgers Untested
The Dodgers are undefeated this spring, but their clash with the New York Yankees today marks the first time they have met a major league club this year. Therefore there is no true line on them.

Their games with minor leaguers were practically worthless because they haven't run into good pitching. Brooklyn's starting lineup is so much in doubt that it isn't just a question of who's on first, but who is going to play anywhere—except Peeewe Reese at shortstop. The Dodgers have lost such stalwarts as Dixie Walker, Eddie Stanky, Vic Lombardi and Hal Gregg.

Now that in Sheldon Jones they have another starting pitcher to help out Larry Jansen—Jones battered Bob Feller in a mound duel yesterday—the home run crazy New York Giants would seem to be a better bet than the Boston Braves, who also lack pitching depth.

Spahn, Sain Disappoint
Warren Spahn and Johnny Sain, mound aces of the Braves, haven't looked so hot this spring and there is no certainty that big Bill Voiselle will stand up as a regular starter. Alvin Dark at shortstop and Stanky at second may click as a keystone combination, but the outfield is nothing to brag about.

Cincinnati has picked up a couple of home run hitters and has been doing extremely well in exhibition games. The Reds are improved and might be the best long shot in the circuit.

Pittsburgh, building for the future, has picked up but probably will get nowhere this year. The Phillies and the Cubs look hopeless.

New Wilmington, Wampum Winners
Greyhounds Down Bessemer, Indians Defeat Mt. Jackson In Section Eight Games

New Wilmington and Wampum both won Section Eight WPIAL league baseball games yesterday. New Wilmington tripping Bessemer 3 to 2 with Bill Young flinging a five-hitter and Wampum trouncing Mt. Jackson 10 to 2 with Schena the winning hurler, giving up but three hits. Heavy hitters in the Wampum-Jackson game were—Emery and Vance with doubles. New Wilmington plays at Wampum Monday afternoon.

Score by innings—
R. H. E.
Bessemer . . . 000 002 0—2 5 2
N. Wilmington 000 003 x—3 7 2
Batteries—Bessemer: Triarte and Retort; New Wilmington: Bill Young and Rapson.

R. H. E.
Wampum . . . 102 022 3—10 8 4
Mt. Jackson . . . 000 001 0—2 3 1
Batteries—Wampum: Schena and Kollek; Mt. Jackson: Gibson and Hassick.

Teresa Allera, of the Handle Shop bowling team, in the Shenango Pottery league broke the team record for a single game last evening as she rolled a 169 score. The former record was 154.

City League Adopts Rules, Starts Negotiations With Umpires Association

Joseph Hartman, former local hurler, and who also pitched for Newark in the international league, was selected as commissioner last night when managers of City Baseball league teams met at Carm DeLeone's, West Washington street. The next meeting will be held at 8 o'clock April 29, according to Secretary Walter Hannon.

The managers adopted rules which will prevail this season. Negotiations were also started with the Umpires' association for the service of their arbiters throughout the season.

The Tigers of the West Side also decided to play under the name of Frank's grill.

Resume Work At Flaherty Field

Work on the $20,000 improvements at P. J. Flaherty field was resumed Thursday after a three-day deluge of rain, with Ralph Lutz and Ernie Hawk in charge of the 15-member crew that has been doing the work at the home of the "Chiefs" of the Mid-Atlantic league. The baseball fans are going to marvel at the changes that have been made by the Johnson Bronze Employees Association in the field. New box seats, more bleachers on an elevation back of the boxes, new concrete dugouts and a press box.

'Jock's' Fortune Totals $500,000

PITTSBURGH, April 16.—(INS)—Dr. John B. Sutherland, Pittsburgh Steeler coach, who died last Sunday, left a fortune of almost half a million dollars. It was revealed today.

The will of the famed mentor, whose sudden death shocked the sports world, filed in Pittsburgh Thursday left three-fourths of his estate to his mother and two sisters.

The mother, Mrs. Mary Sutherland, of Cooper Angus, Scotland, is 90 years old and lives with one of the sisters, Louisa.

The other sister, Marion, is a Pittsburgh nurse.

The remaining one-fourth of the estate was left to other relatives.

Buccos Returning; Clash With Tigers

KANSAS CITY, Mo., April 16.—(INS)—After six weeks of spring training, the Pirates return to Pittsburgh today to begin final preparations for the National League pennant race.

The Detroit Tigers will visit Forbes Field for two exhibition games over the week-end then the Buccos will journey to Cincinnati for the lid-opener Monday.

Yesterday at Kansas City, the Corsairs pounded out 15 hits as they beat the Chicago White Sox 9-5. The win gave Pittsburgh the spring series between the two clubs, 7-4.

Ralph Kiner with three hits once again paced the attack.

Ferriss Rumors Fade As 'Boo' Masters Orioles

(By International News Service)

The performance of Dave Ferriss against Baltimore yesterday gave the lie today to reports that the star pitcher of the Red Sox is in poor physical shape.

The brilliant "Boo" held the Orioles to five hits over the full nine innings, and beat them 3 to 1. Rookie Sheldon Jones, up from Jersey City, qualified definitely as the No. 2 man on the New York Giants' pitching staff by winning a 2 to 0 decision from Cleveland's Bob Feller. Each team got only four hits.

Washington's hapless Senators finally clicked in beating the Phillies, 6 to 3. Chicago's Cubs defeated the St. Louis Cardinals, 6 to 4, but the White Sox lost to Pittsburgh, 9 to 5.

In games involving minor league opposition, Cincinnati downed Syracuse, 8 to 6 and the St. Louis Browns drubbed Texarkana, 10 to 5.

High Track Team Entered In Eight Mansfield Events

Coach Bill Klee, Assistant Coach Austin Cowmeadow, George "Gig" Thomas and Principal Claire Book, headed the New Castle High track and field party that left this city early today for Mansfield, Ohio, and the annual relay carnival.

The New Castle thriflads are entered in eight events, as follows—Today the mile team race; Saturday—distance medley, 2-mile relay, 880 yard relay, mile relay, shot put, broad jump and open quarter.

Over 1,000 Boys
The Mansfield relay will draw about 1,000 boys, from over 100 high schools in Ohio, Pennsylvania, New York, Indiana, Michigan and Illinois. This is one of the biggest schoolboy relay carnivals in the country.

"We have been handicapped by lack of good weather, and a suitable track, but we feel that we can make a creditable showing at Mansfield today and tomorrow, Head Coach Klee stated.

The New Castle team will be quartered at Mansfield all night and will see a grid game this evening, it was announced.
